The News.

Our Congressional news is not especially important this morning. The Senate is still occupied in the discussion of the Kansas bill. Senator Toombs spoke upon the Lecompton question yesterday. In the House, Mr. Savage argued against the Secretary of War's recommendation for a permanent increase of the army. He contended that if the idea become prevalent that we must depend for defence on a standing army, the universal self-reliance for protection actuating the people, would be stricken down.

It is said that Calhoun has declared his intention to give certificates of election to the Free State officers of Kansas.

We have our usual report of the proceedings of our State Legislature yesterday. Several bills passed the Assembly, relating particularly to our city. The resolution to take a recess seems to meet with considerable opposition.

The Ohio Legislature have repealed the acts passed some time ago, refusing the use of jails for the confinement of fugitive slaves.

A destructive fire occurred at Pittsburgh yesterday. The cannon foundry of Knapp and Wade, was destroyed. Loss about $100,000: insured for $96,000, mostly in New York and Philadelphia insurance companies.

The Kangaroo will sail from New York for Europe on Saturday.

The Hudson River is now open to Albany.—The boats will commence running on it to-day.

The runaway barque Adelaic, arrived at Savannah on the 17th

Yesterday, a fire occurred in this City, by which about $5,000 worth of property was destroyed.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Tax payers, was held at Albany Hall last night. The object of the meeting was to discuss the proposed amendments to the City Charter.

The New York Produce Market yesterday, was without change. Our own market is brisk, with upward tendency in prices of spring wheat.—The weather was quite pleasant here yesterday. The ice has all left the River, and active preparations are going on amongst the shipping, preparatory to the resump ion of navigation.

An Injured Innocent.

The following communication from Alderman HADLEY appears in the News of yesterday. Believing in "fair play," and always willing to "hear both sides," we copy the Alderman's card. Of course, we credit all he says, and resolute we reject the thought that he ever tried to control a caucus, or solicited any man to vote for him, or ever entertained any idea of disturbing the Tax-payer's meeting at Albany Hall. No doubt the public at large will be equally forgetful and forgiving. Here is the martyr's card:

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

In an article in your paper this morning, March 17, under the heading of "The Amendments to the Charter," you accuse me, if not directly, by insinuation in several particulars, all of which are false, and without a particular foundation.

There is not a man in the city, who will say I ever asked him to go to Albany Hall to any other place, to break up a "Tax-payers' Meeting," or any other meeting, or to make any disturbance of any kind, at any time or place. I never did.

The insinuation that I have heretofore mustered a little army of graziers, officered by contractors, and marched them to the Democratic Caucuses, or to the polls to carry an election, is alike insulting to many honest laboring men, whose labor has made our streets and walks, and to myself. No such thing was ever done or attempted by me, for two reasons: first I have too much self-respect to make such an attempt; and second, the class of men whom you insult by the insinuation are too independent, and know too well their rights to permit, either you, or me, or any one else, to insult them by such an attempt to dictate to them for whom they shall vote.

Again, you accuse me of "concocting and carrying through amendment after amendment to the City Charter," doing away with all its balance, removing its checks, giving illimitable power to the Council to issue city bonds, and in our debts, and in the end, utterly destroying what was originally a good charter." In this, again, you are mistaken. During the three years which I had the honor to occupy a seat in our State Legislature, it is true that quite a number of amendatory acts to our charter were obtained; but in no instance, did I ever concoct or originate an amendment or addition to the charter, except that amendment was either prepared or recommended by some action of the Common Council, who were elected by the people. And it is also true, that in several instances where bills were introduced affecting our city charter, but upon the provisions of which the Council had not expressed an opinion, such bills were crucified in their passage, and held till an expression could be obtained by resolution or otherwise from the Common Council.

I am now, and always have been, opposed to any material amendments or alterations in our City Charter, except such amendments or alterations are first submitted to a vote of the people and their assent obtained through the ballot box: and any person who charges to the contrary, charges that which is not true. The people have the right to make their own Constitution, whether State or Municipal, and I always have, and always will, resist by every lawful means in my power, and by all the ability, be it much or little, that I possess, any attempt to take from the people that right.

J. HADLEY.

Milwaukee, March 17th, 1858.

INAUGURATION OF THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO.—On Wednesday afternoon, Hon. JOHN C. HAINES, the newly elected Mayor of Chicago, was inaugurated Mayor of that City. The inauguration took place at Metropolitan Hall, which was filled to its utmost capacity. Some two hundred ladies were present in the galleries. The Mayor elect was introduced to the Council by a committee of three appointed for that purpose; he then delivered his inaugural address, a document of about four columns in length, of which the Press says:—"Its more striking characteristics are the good sense which pervades it, its sound liberal views of the policy which should be pursued in our municipal affairs, its conservative character upon questions on which men are prone to indulge impracticable views, and its stern, emphatic declarations that the supremacy of law shall be maintained. In all these respects, however high public expectation may have been raised by the well known character of Mayor Haines, we think he may safely congratulate himself on having fully met it."

The Meeting Last Night.

An immense meeting of our tax-payers was held at the Albany Hall, last night, to consider the subject of amending our City Charter. Gen. PAINE presided and Mr. LYNDE, submitted a report from the Committee appointed to examine the published amendments. The Committee suggest a number of additions and alterations, and with these recommended the adoption of the amendments. The main changes are, in making three instead of one assessor; in limiting the salary of the Treasurer to $2,500; in abolishing the office of City Marshal; and in increasing the limit of the aggregate annual tax to $176,000.—Very able addresses were made by Messrs. WATKINS, J. S. BROWN and other gentlemen. The report of the Committee was adopted by an overwhelming vote, and the meeting adjourned at a late hour, highly satisfied with this result. The meeting, we think, was the largest, most intelligent and most earnest, we have yet had in our city. We trust that the Legislature will at once comply with the wishes, and pass these amendments.

FIRE IN THE 3D WARD YESTERDAY.—Shortly after twelve o'clock yesterday, a fire broke out in the Omnibus barn of S. B. & J. Davis, near the corner of Milwaukee and Huron sts, which, together with 2 other wooden buildings, were entirely consumed, and several other buildings close by were considerably damaged. The total loss is estimated at from $4,000 to $5,000, part of which is insured. When the fire broke out there was nobody in the barn, and it was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. The building in which it originated was situated directly in the rear of Seaman & Wing's new brick building, between Milwaukee and Huron streets, which was damaged probably to the amount of $1,000 or $1,500. The building is insured in the Milwaukee City, $5,000, in the Phoenix, $2,500, in the United States, $2,000, and in the North American of Hartford, Conn., $4,000. The barn was very dry and was consumed in a very short time. The flames speedily communicated to the rear of Gardiner & Swaney's Concert Saloon, which was also completely destroyed. This building was also owned by S. B. & J. Davis; their entire loss is about $8,000, upon which there is no insurance.

The blacksmith shop of John Seeley close by the barn on Milwaukee street, was damaged to the amount of about $600; insured for $500 in the Peoria. A building adjoining the Concert Saloon on Main street, belonging to Mr. G. M. Fitzgerald, was triflingly damaged, and is insured. The families who occupied the building lose something by damage to their furniture.

The alarm was not sounded until the fire had gained great headway, and it was with considerable difficulty that the engines could be hauled through the streets, the mud being knee deep.—When they got to work, the firemen did well in preventing the flames from spreading further.—It was feared at one time that Seaman's fine building would be consumed, but the prompt efforts of the firemen saved it, for which Mr. Seaman acknowledges his obligations to the fire department.

THE NEXT STATE FAIR.—The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society will decide in a short time upon the location of the next State Fair. We understand that the competition for the selection is reduced to three points—Madison, Janesville and Milwaukee. One of these places will be selected—and it will depend upon the liberality and energy of the people of these cities, which will receive it. This will depend upon which makes the most liberal offer to the Society. If the people of this city desire to have the next Fair holden here, they must go at once to work and see what can be done to secure it. We ought to have it, but the Society must be governed by what will best advance its interests. Will some one interested take hold of this matter and see what can be raised to secure the Fair at this place? What is done, must be done quickly.

Thus says the Madison Journal. The Janesville papers are urging the people of that city to take the matter in hand and secure the benefit of the State Fair themselves. As the Journal says, the location of the Fair, will depend principally upon the liberality, and energy of the people of these cities, and the most liberal and energetic will no doubt gain the prize. In several points of view, Milwaukee is the place for the State Fair. Our Rail Road facilities, hotel accommodations, and ample fair grounds, give us a decided advantage over our competing sister cities, and it only remains for those of our citizens who are interested in securing the location of the State Fair at this city, to exert themselves, and see that they are not out bid by their western neighbors.

ALDERMAN FOR THE SEVENTH WARD.—Our City Auctioneer, CALEB WALL, offers himself in the News of yesterday to "the Democratic electors of the Seventh Ward," as a candidate for Alderman for two years. Of course, Caleb wants none but Democrats, and Locompton ones at that, to support his Aldermanic pretensions.

MILITARY.—The Governor has appointed ARON RHODE, of this city, Major of the First Regiment Wisconsin Militia, vice David George, resigned. Major RHODE is a good citizen and a thorough soldier.

ENGINE CO. NO. 5.—We are assured by the Officers of Ocean Engine Co. No. 5, that none of their members were concerned in the little fracas that occurred during the election for Engineers, on Monday last. It gives us pleasure to make the correction.

FIRE-MAJOR ROBINSON.—Major ROBINSON goes to Beloit this morning to perform his feat of marching six miles, playing all the while on his life. The Major is undoubtedly the best liver in the State and his music is well worth hearing.

CLEAN THE STREETS.—Why are not the dirt-heaps removed from East Water street? Will not the Aldermen of the Third and Seventh wards to attend this matter at once?

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER.—Yesterday was a delicious specimen of a Spring day. The sky was cloudless, the air balmy, the sunshine genial; but the mud exceeded everything.

The Charter Election.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—A communication appears in the Times, of Wednesday, over the signature of "Reform," calling your correspondent Victor to an account, for the wholesale manner in which he would dispose of the present City officials, and at the same time accuses him of making invidious comparisons, and by implication (a favorite word with Reform) charging all others, save his favorite, with dishonesty and incompetency.

Let me ask Reform if the charges he prefers against Victor will not hold equally good as against himself, when he is pleased to single out only three of the officials as worthy of his especial laudation.

"Reform" has not been guilty by implication, but in a direct manner calls all the city officials a pack of plunderers. I should hesitate long, Mr. Editor, to apply the term to men occupying the position they do, and I should have supposed that common decency and self respect would have prompted the use of different language if he wished to charge them with malfeasance in office, and not call them a horde, which, according to Webster, means a band of plunderers.

And again, by implication, I am accused of charging the Chief of Police with being dishonest and incompetent. Such was not my intention, nor do I intend to bring any charges to his door;—so much for favorite No. 1. Now as to favorite No. 2—the City Clerk—if "Reform" wishes to back up and urge his re-appointment, he has a perfect right so to do, but it strikes me such a course would be inconsistent on the part of "Reform," after accusing me of attempting to forestall public opinion; yet, nevertheless, that is his intention.

We now come to favorite No. 3—a more distinguished functionary, which completes the trio of "Reform's" favorites. The City Comptroller, who, he says, "has done his duty well, has "brought order out of confusion, and managed "the affairs of this office in a most thorough "business-like manner." Perhaps others beside "Reform" have a right to an opinion, too. Methinks the public have not so soon forgotten his late trip to New York for the purpose of effecting a loan upon our city bonds, and how he became the victim of a certain confidence man, well known in this community, and with what gusto he telegraphed home his success; neither have the public forgotten a telegraphic despatch that a few days after followed, announcing that the funds raised by this "thorough business man" were under an attachment.

And yet again: Have the people forgotten a transaction, whereby an Alderman of one of our wards swindled the city to the tune of one hundred and fifty dollars?

Let me ask how came this about? Was it thro' the vigilance of the Comptroller and the exercise of that business talent that is claimed for him? It would appear that the bill of said Alderman never was presented to the board of Councilmen, and consequently never was passed upon legally by the Committee it should have been referred to. Yet the same bill was audited and paid for work never performed by said Alderman, but for which labor they still owe a gentleman whose conscience will not allow him to claim but one-tenth of the amount paid, and will think himself well paid too if he ever gets it.—So much for our erudite Comptroller.

One word more to "Reform." Let me exclaim in this closing paragraph, "with all thy faults I love thee still." You have been kind enough to endorse my favorite the head of the Treasury Department which is more than could have been claimed by me, and more than my inclinations will permit me to reciprocate.

VICTOR.

THE OLD FOLKS CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—Our readers will bear in mind that the Old Folks Concert, for the benefit of the South Presbyterian Church, comes off at Young's Hall to-night.—Those who attended the festival last week, will no doubt be on hand this evening, and we hope they will induce their friends to attend also.—The entertainment is gotten up entirely by the ladies, which is quite sufficient to insure its being an agreeable one. It is for a praiseworthy object too, and those who attend will not only have a pleasant evening's enjoyment, but contribute their mite to a good purpose.

THE OPERA NEXT MONDAY.—We remind our readers that the Opera of "the Magic Flute" is to be given by our Musical Society, on Monday evening next. It will be admirably performed, the utmost pains having been taken in the rehersals, &c. Those wishing to secure seats, or obtain tickets, had better apply without delay, since the number is necessarily limited and a large proportion already sold.

A Complaint Against No. 4.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—As the Hose cart of No. 7 was returning from the fire, yesterday afternoon, they were assailed, on passing the house of Engine Co. No. 4, and mud thrown at the members by persons connected with No. 4. As there was no possible excuse for such conduct, and as No. 7 is an orderly, zealous and active Company, we think that some notice ought to be taken of this affair by the city authorities. The Foreman of No. 7 very properly ordered his Company to take another street, on purpose to avoid any collision

DIED.

THE FIRST STEAMBOAT EVER BUILT ON LAKE ERIE.—The Detroit Free Press publishes an article from the Detroit Gazette of August 23d, 1816, giving an account of the arrival at that place of the steamboat "Walk-in-the-Water," which it is said was the first steam craft ever built on Lake Erie. The trip spoken of in the article is the first that she ever made, having just been completed at Black Rock, on the Niagara River. The event, which was one of the most important that ever occurred in the western country, was the occasion of no unusual demonstrations on the part of our sedate forefathers, and even newspaper reporters only found occasion for the concoction of a very brief item. It is to be regretted that these last had not possessed more of the faculty for voluminous description which marks the press of the present day, that we might have known the details of her construction and equipments. The article is a valuable one, and is probably the only one in existence, written contemporary with the building of the boat, and consequently perfectly reliable.

STEAMBOAT ARRIVED.

Yesterday, between the hours of 10 and 11 A. M., the elegant steamboat Walk-in-the-Water, Capt. J. Fish, arrived. As she passed the public wharf, and that owned by Mr. J. S. Roby, she was cheered by hundred of the inhabitants, who had collected to witness this (in these waters) truly novel and grand spectacle. She came to at Wing's wharf.

She left Buffalo at half-past 1 o'clock on the 23d, and arrived off Dunkirk at 35 minutes past 9, on the same day. On the following morning she arrived at Erie, Capt. Fish having reduced her steam during the night in order not to pass that place, where she took in a supply of wood. At half-past 7 P. M. she left Erie and came to Cleveland at 11 o'clock on Tuesday—at 20 minutes past 6 o'clock P. M. sailed, and arrived off Sandusky Bay at 1 o'clock on Wednesday, lay at anchor during the night, and then proceeded to Venice for wood—left Venice at 8 P. M. and arrived at the mouth of Detroit river, where she anchored during the night. The whole time employed in sailing in this first voyage from Buffalo to this port, being about 44 hours and 10 minutes; the wind ahead during nearly the whole passage. Not the slightest accident happened during the voyage, and all her machinery worked admirably.

Nothing could exceed the surprise of the sons of the forest on seeing the Walk-in-the-Water moving majestically and rapidly against a strong current without the aid of sails or oars. They lined the banks above Malden, and expressed their astonishment by repeated shouts of "Tai-yoh, nichee!" A report has been circulated among them that a "big canoe" would soon come from the "noisy waters," which, by order of the great father of the "Chenoo Komons" would be drawn through the lakes and rivers by a sturgeon! Of the truth of the report they are now perfectly satisfied.

The cabins of this boat are fitted up in a neat, convenient, and elegant style; and the manner in which she is found does honor to the proprietors and to her commander. A passage between this place and Buffalo is now, not merely tolerable, but truly pleasant.

Friday, she will make a trip to Lake St. Clair, with a large party of ladies and gentlemen. She will leave this place for Buffalo to-morrow, and may be expected to visit us again next week.

*An explanation of surprise.

WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

MADISON, March 17th, 7½ P. M.

ASSEMBLY.—Bills passed—To prohibit the issue of city bonds by the Mayor and Council of Milwaukee; for investigating the origin of fires in Milwaukee; for a boom on Chippewa River; to amend act incorporating village of Elkhorn; to repeal section 306 of code of procedure, to reduce act incorporating city of Janesville, and the various acts amendatory thereto into one act; for formation and protection of agricultural societies; to incorporate the Northport Bridge Co.; to repeal act authorizing the Superintendent of Public Instruction to subscribe for copies of Journal of Education; to amend act incorporating city of Mineral Point; to repeal chapter 12, laws of 1857.

Mr. P. H. Smith moved that Assembly go into Committee of the Whole on the revision of statutes. He said several chapters were in possession of the Assembly since the 1st of March, at which date they were made the special order, and as yet they have not been touched. The Assembly refused to go into Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Steever, on leave, introduced a bill to amend the act incorporating city of Milwaukee, and several acts amendatory thereof and to consolidate the same into one act.

Adjourned.

March 18, 9 A. M.

Petitions—Of Peter Martineau, for retrocession of certain territories; to make Clerks of Circuit and County Courts of Milwaukee salaried officers; remonstrance of N. H. Wood against annexing town of Caledonia to Portage City; memorial to Congress for an appropriation to construct a canal and improve navigation of Grant River at Potosi; remonstrance of citizens of Milwaukee against passage of act amending Fox River Valley Rail Road charter.

Bills Introduced—Relating to publishing of revised statutes. To repeal all acts amending Charter of Milwaukee. To make Clerks of Circuit and County Courts of Milwaukee salaried officers. To amend act incorporating Lake Superior R. R. Co. In relation to judgment on bond, note and warrant of attorney. In relation to salary of late Jas. G. Percival.

Resolutions taken up—Hamilton's resolution to take a recess was taken up and discussed at length, and the morning hour having arrived, it went over. It looks as if the plan to take a recess had exploded.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 18.

The Chair presented a communication from the Secretary of War, stating that Rock Island was no longer required for military purposes, and urging the propriety of taking steps for the sale of the property belonging to the government.

Mr. Wilson, of Mass., said that an informal agreement had been made by which the Senator from Georgia would occupy the floor on the Kansas bill.

Mr. Wilson also moved that an extra session be held, which was agreed to.

Mr. Gwin presented a resolution of inquiry as to what steps had been taken to punish the perpetrators of the massacre of one hundred and eighteen emigrants in Utah. Mr. Gwin said an expedition from the Pacific coast against Utah, would pass over the scene of the massacre, and thought every wigwam within 100 miles should be searched. He had heard the massacre directly charged on the Mormons; but he would not believe it without proof.

He contended that immediate action was necessary, otherwise the Indians would not leave any of the emigrant routes unmolested. Houston was opposed to indiscriminate warfare on the Indians. He was willing to vote if the offenders could be indentified, but objected to proceeding without inquiry, and thus provoke war and retaliation. Gwin asked only that the murderers be punished.

Foote moved to take up the Kansas bill. He resigned the floor to Toombs, who said he agreed with Crittenden that this was not a sectional question; it involved the rights of 15 States, and a principle worth more to others than the union of these States.

Mr. Toombs then addressed the Senate. He said he agreed with Mr. Crittenden, that this was not a sectional question. It involved the rights of fifteen States and a principle worth more to the others than the Union of those States. The anti-Slavery shibboleth, that there should be no more Slaves States, was pressing the question on the Senate and the defeat of this bill would be the triumph of these principles. It became the Senate therefore to look at the principles which underlie this question. He then examined the two clauses of the Constitution having reference to the admission of new States.

Hamilton, he said, foresaw the admission of Louisiana, and of a large portion of Mexico.—The former is history—the latter will soon become so. Texas is already admitted, but a great restriction is imposed on this right of admission, namely, that the State Government must be Republican in form. The only duty of Congress is to see if the Constitution is Republican. But growing out of this is another duty, namely, that new States shall be admitted on an equality with others. Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Louisiana were admitted without a question.—Missouri was the first case in which power was claimed to look into a State Constitution; not because it was anti-Republican, but because it tolerated slavery. Since that period Northern abolitionists have opposed the admission of every new State when they sowed the wind and if the whirlwind be repressed, they alone were responsible.

Mr. Toombs then proceeded to argue the right of Kansas to be admitted under the Lecompton Constitution, contending that her claim was three-fold, and supporting his position by various illustrations; he also gave the record on his own bill, and explained its provisions; following up the various points of Mr. Crittenden's speech, he argued the legality of the Lecompton Constitution, and the duty of Congress to pass it. How could his friend, Mr. Crittenden, he asked, stand on the extraordinary propositions that the Lecompton Constitution was fraudulent simply because frauds occurred at the elections which had no reference to the Convention which framed it? Referring to Messrs. Walker and Stanton's statement that the Constitution was not the will of the People, he said he knew nothing in the character of these men that elevated them beyond the credulity of ordinary witnesses, and thought them indebted to his country in not going further. He then alluded to Mr. Crittenden's expressions of regret at the repeal of the Missouri Compromise—saying, that he on the contrary rejoiced to think it was torn from the statute book.

He had weighed the value of the Union, and sometimes thought the South loved it not wisely but too well, then turning to Mr. Crittenden remarks in reference to Mr. Clay and the Missouri Compromise, he reminded the Senator, that but seven years ago the great Kentuckian stood in that chamber, disclaiming the authorship of that measure. Mr. T. concluded with an eloquent passage in defence of the Democratic party and against the fanaticism of the North.

Mr. Crittenden explained allusion to Mr. Clay, and briefly referred to some minor points, touching the legality of the Lecompton Constitution, he wished he said to see the South always right and would have been gratified, could she see the question as he saw it.

The question of slavery, he repeated, was not the real issue, it was thrown in to exasperate the contention; no one believed that Kansas would be a slave State; the question has been determined partly by her climate, but mainly by the will of the people. Why should the South be in haste to admit her, which, whenever the constitution is imposed upon her, would soon be changed? Why does the South want two more Senators, such as Kansas would immediately send here? As for himself, he had done his duty. He thought he was old enough not to take the part of a protestant, but of a patriot. A true son of the South, he was also a true son of the U. S. May peace and prosperity dwell within our gates.

Mr. Bell, of Tenn., said the Senator from Georgia had promulgated doctrines such as no one can pass without notice. He says he has weighed the value of the Union, and thinks the South has loved it too well. That is the issue the Senator openly states is an issue for victory. There is time enough, said Mr. Bell, to estimate the value of the Union when the powerful North takes a deliberate step; when, for instance, she refuses to admit a Territory, in which slavery already exists, unless it should liberate its slaves. He must see such an issue actually before us before he considered it, but he believed it would never come if the South was prudent. He, (Bell) like the Senator from Ky., would not take a sectional view of this question. He then proceeded to trace at some length the facts connected with the foundation of territorial government of Kansas, as to show that there had been a misapprehension of statistics. Thence turning to the Kansas Nebraska bill, he said it was a struggle for victory, carried on with a spirit unequalled in fervor excepting in revolutionary France.

HOUSE.—Mr. Savage argued in favor of volunteers against the recommendation of the Secretary of War, for permanent increase of the army. He contended if the idea become prevalent that we must depend for defence on a standing army, the universal self-reliance for protection actuating the people, would be stricken down.

The House debated the Army bill without action. Adjourned.

Lecompton Meetings a Sham.

The Southern advocates of Lecompton are not cheated by the "strengthening" demonstrations in the free States. They know that the mass of the people are Anti-Lecompton, and that very few, aside from the recipients and expectants of executive favors, have any "honest" regard for the Administration policy. The Richmond Whig says:

"It is apparent that all the Lecompton meetings, which have yet been held in the North, were the merest shams and pretences in the world—gotten up by office-holders, and attended by spoilsmen, and whose action, therefore, is entitled to no weight and carries with it no political significance whatever. In a word, the Northern Democracy have clearly abandoned the principles of the Kansas-Nebraska Act, and have turned out to be wholly unsound and unreliable upon the simple and plain issue of the admission of Kansas under a Slavery Constitution. The party in this region is utterly demoralized and disreputed, and the South has nothing in the world to expect or to hope from it."

A BOSTON "NOTION."—Boston is the "City of Notions," and many of them good ones. A late number of the Traveller describes one in particular, which exemplifies Yankee ingenuity and exactness. It ensures to the whole city a common standard of time. This is the great want of Milwaukee, and one to which we have also often called the attention of our citizens and city authorities, that we are almost tired of alluding to it. Why cannot we, too, have such a standard? Why will not the Common Council designate somebody—it matters very little whom—to "keep time" and strike the hour, once, twice or thrice a day, on some of the Church bells? The bell so selected would be the "bell-wether" of the entire city, and its morning, mid-day and evening chimes would be instantly echoed by all the other bells, Church, Foundry, School, &c., which ring the hours. Read how they manage this in Boston:

UNIFORM TIME IN BOSTON.—We learn that the Superintendent of Fire Alarms, Mr. Stearns, has made arrangements for giving uniform time to the inhabitants of the city every day at noon, by means of the Fire Alarm Telegraph. There are twenty-three bells connected with the telegraph, which, on and after the 22d inst., will be struck one blow at noon. An exact chronometer has been provided, which will be placed in the circuit, and which will send the electric current over the wires, striking all the bells on the instant. This will give all the inhabitants of the city an opportunity to regulate their time by a correct standard.

It is a great advance upon the London system, which only drops a ball from a pole erected in the Strand, the telegraph wires being connected with the Royal Observatory. It is also much better than the Paris method of firing a cannon, which is touched of by telegraph. In the London plan the few persons in the vicinity of the Strand only are benefitted; and at Paris, the man who is a half mile distant loses several seconds, unless he makes allowance for the speed of sound; but in the Boston plan the whole city can be told the time to the fraction of a second.

The public will undoubtedly soon learn to appreciate the system, and we shall see the incongruity of people taking time from steeples that have no clocks in them.

A NEW STATE.—The joint resolution in favor of a new State, says the Madison Journal of the 17th, to be composed of a portion of Northern Wisconsin, and that part of Michigan bordering on Lake Superior, passed the Assembly this morning by a large majority.

The measure, continues the Journal, is one that we have always considered eminently proper. The Territory included in the proposed State, has its distinct and peculiar interests; and seems intended by nature for a separate State. Rich beyond all other portions of the country in mineral treasure, well adapted in many parts for the production of most of the cereals and esculents of the Northern temperate zone, it possesses all the elements essential to a rich and populous commonwealth.

We hope that it may find favor with Congress, and that at no distant day the new State of Superior may be added to the galaxy of Free States.

THE VILLAGE OF HORTONVILLE.—The New London Times thus speaks of this thriving village:

"Hortonville has about 300 inhabitants, and gradually and healthily growing. It is no mushroom town, starting up in one day to be abandoned the next, but a living reality. It has two stores, two hotels, its machine shops, one saw mill and one flouring mill, which makes the best flour in Northern Wisconsin. It is situated on Hortonville Creek, one and a half miles from the Wolf river, thirteen west of Appleton, twenty-six north of Oshkosh and seven east of New London, in the midst of a rich farming country, and to speak the truth, these lands are now occupied by living inhabitants. Surrounding this beautiful village are numerous farms, not in the embryotic state, but actually in a state of cultivation, and turning off from ten to seventy acres of grain yearly. This, now, is a reality, not a fiction, as some of your citizens can well attest. And then the village. How elegantly situated. What individual, contemplating the surrounding farming country, intermingled with its excellent pine timber, can doubt its future growth.

The Condition of Kansas—Private Letter from Gov. Robinson—Why is Wise Cousin silent on the Lecompton Iniquity?

A friend has handed us a private letter, just received from Gov. Robinson, of Kansas, which indicates the state of public opinion there, and brings to light a new fact in the programme of the Kansas usurpation.

He says "the people of Kansas have given up all hope of the defeat of the Lecompton Constitution in Congress. The combined power of party drill and federal patronage will no doubt carry it safely through both Houses. With the passage of that act popular freedom dies in Kansas, and for all time a cruel and relentless despotism is established; a despotism, annihilating the last vestige of free government, providing by cunningly devised schemes for its own perpetuity, and using the most desperate and abandoned villains for the instruments of its power. We are fully convinced that the commission of this gigantic crime has been resolved upon by the Democratic party in Congress.

They doubtless think that wearied out, poor and oppressed as we are, we shall submit, or if not, that we can be crushed like a worm. I need not tell you that we shall not submit. If we did, we should deserve to be yoked with the negro slaves that they seek to impose upon us, and driven forth in chains from the glorious land that we were too base and cowardly to defend, and of which we had proved ourselves unworthy.

If the federal government will let us alone, we can peaceably and speedily revolutionize, throw off the usurpation and establish a free government. But it is too evident that the President, utterly insane and besotted in his tyrannical designs, intends to guard the cradle of his favorite bantling with a powerful force.

Under pretence of the Utah war, the army is accumulating here, which he intends to use against us, if we make any attempt to regain our lost rights.

We have information also that Gov. Stewart of Missouri, has an arrangement with Marshall, Governor elect of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, to have a large force in readiness, to co-operate with him in putting down rebellion. Against such odds we cannot contend alone.

I cannot believe that we shall be abandoned in this hour of peril, and left to be crushed beneath the heel of desperate power.

My heart bleeds for this suffering people, so brave and self-sacrificing for liberty.

Only those who know them thoroughly, can realize how much they deserve sympathy and support, for defending this outpost so long and so successfully against such fearful odds, and at such cost to themselves.

Will not the sovereign States, in this last extremity, rouse to some proper sense of their duty to us? Will they not stay the hand of a tyrannical President by making common cause with us in sustaining the right of self-government for which our fathers poured out their blood and treasure? Can we not ask at least, that they should do this, from self-respect, if from no sympathy with us?

I trust Wisconsin, the noblest daughter of the Northwest, will remember her sons, some of whom have died here, fighting for freedom, and others of whom live, ready to rally to her standard.

We have not heard from your Legislature yet. We receive various counsels from our friends. Timid friends who, last year came near ruining us by counseling peace, again assure us that some way of escape will be provided. Had we taken their advice then, the Free State population would have been annihilated. We shall not follow it now, when its folly is so clearly demonstrated.

We have gained only when we made up our minds to fight and prepared for it. Submission has always been followed by more exactions and injuries. I know that the people are religiously resolved upon resistance.

I know not how to characterize this damning act of the Federal Government, and the apathy of the people under it.

My soul is filled with indignation too deep for words.

May God direct and help us.

Most truly yours,
CHARLES ROBINSON."

What has become of the "protest" of our Legislature. Why is it not passed at once. We have had talk enough. It is time for action. Let the voice of Wisconsin be heard by the vile traitors and minions of power, who have sold the free institutions of their country for the miserable pittance of Federal favor. Let her utter her solemn protest in words that befit the hour. Let her solemnly assure the besotted tyrants who now hold the reins of the Federal Government that she will not permit a despotism to be imposed upon a sister State against its will, nor be made a party to its support.—Madison Journal.

The Capture of Governor Yeh by the British.

From the commencement the British war with China has been of a strange and irregular character; but the most remarkable event which has occurred is the capture of Governor Yeh, "of the peacock feather and resplendent button," and his presence, according to the last accounts, on board an English ship as a prisoner of war. It is said that, when he was caught, he was disguised as a Coolie, trying to effect his escape from the outside of the city who had taken possession of Canton; but others say—with what foundation we are unable to judge—that he purposely put himself in the way of being made prisoner, in order to avoid the punishment which is inflicted, in case of failure, by the Imperial authorities at Pekin. He, perhaps, remembered the fate of Commissioner Lin, and thought it safer to trust to the clemency of the commander of the Inflexible, than to brave the anger of the Imperial relative of the Sun and Moon.

If the stories that are told of Governor Yeh, concerning his wholesale assassinations of thousands of human beings, and his horrible cruelties and tyranny, be only partly true, his compulsory retirement from the government of Canton is not to be regretted, while his capture is almost ludicrous. Whatever may be the real merits of the quarrel between Yeh and Sir John Bowring, it is very generally admitted that the original difference could have been readily adjusted, and the horrors of war averted, but for the obstinacy, insolent demeanor, and ferocious edicts against Englishmen, of Yeh. It may be, therefore, that his seizure, and the consequent absence of his influence over the Cantonese, will have a great effect in bringing the war to a speedy conclusion. The Cantonese are said to be the most violent foes of European intrusion, and particularly hostile to the English; but they are also endowed with strong commercial sense, and are consequently able to appreciate the hopelessness of their present position. They are quite aware of the value of their city, and it is reasonable to suppose that, if they can rescue it from the pillage of an angry invading army by concession, they will gladly do so, when they are assured of their powerlessness to continue the contest. In the last war, when they found that fighting was a losing game, they purchased peace by paying Great Britain $6,000,000.

They might be inclined to do so now, and thus settle the matter; but unfortunately the hostile feeling is not confined to the inhabitants of the two Kwangs, nor is their influence apparently very great with the Government at Pekin. Within a short time the war has assumed a more national character on the part of the Chinese than it ever did before, and the Mandarins of the northern provinces have issued the most inflammatory proclamations against the "foreigner devils," which, emanated directly from Pekin, must be considered as an expression of the Celestial government. It is true that, judging from the ease with which a few thousand men have captured the most populous and powerful city of the seaboard, the ultimate success of the British is scarcely admitte of a doubt; but the Chinese do not very easily lose their confidence in their own superiority, and repeated defeats, like those which they suffered in 1841 and 1842, fail to convince them that resistance is hopeless. Before they arrive at this conclusion, what innumerable evils will they have to endure from the invasion of their country, the ruin of their trade, and the destruction of thousands of lives, perfectly innocent of any knowledge, much less complicity in the action of their government. The last war was settled by a powerful demonstration before Nankin, and it is probable than an effort will be made by the British to repeat the experiment now. A protracted war is on all accounts to be deprecated; but on none more than the extreme danger—far worse than fighting—to which the European soldiers would be exposed from the disease attendant on a lengthened stay in China.

It is a remarkable fact connected with this war, that, just a year ago, Lord Palmerston was defeated in the House of Commons on a motion of Mr. Cobden relative to Yeh and the Chinese war; and now he resigns his office at the moment that the news arrives that Canton is in the possession of the British, and Yeh a prisoner on board a British man-of-war. Cobden's organs call this "retributive justice."—New York Journal of Commerce, March 12.

SENSIBLE.—Rev. Anson Smyth, State Commissioner of Common Schools in Ohio, in his last report to the Legislature, makes the following remarks:

Every teacher should read at least one good newspaper, otherwise he will live in ignorance of daily occurring facts, in regard to which his profession requires that he should be informed. Newspapers are fast becoming the teachers of the world; and the man or woman who is not a habitual reader of this department of literature cannot be thoroughly qualified for the teacher's profession.

The Leviathan.

From the London Times, Feb. 24th.

It is a long time since the public have heard anything of their old friend the Leviathan, which lately occupied so large a share of their attention, and the bulletins about which chronicled almost hourly how many or how few inches she had progressed towards her final destination—the water. The fact, however, is that very little has been done in the way of actual progress since the vessel was floated off her cradles, and she still remains moored stem and stern in the centre of the river, a little below the old building-yard, from which for so many months she kept out the light and air, and in which for so many weeks grave fears were entertained that she would remain, a permanent adornment of the river's bank. But though, as we have said nothing worth speaking of in the way work has been done about the Leviathan herself, a very great deal has been perfected, and we believe the arrangements are being made for her final completion and fitting for sea. With regard to this point, a great deal of misapprehension appears to exist with the public as to the total outlay necessary to fit her out, and the time it will require to get her ready in all respects for sea-going service. As far as the first named subject is concerned, we believe we shall be found correct in saying that the total cost of completing fittings, putting on board stores, &c., and making her in all respect ready for sea, will not exceed £120,000, and that the time required to do this will certainly not extend beyond the month of July.

* * * * * * *

No less than ten anchors are now required to hold the monster vessel at her present moorings—five at the stem and five at the stern, and each with lengths of cable attached, varying from 40 to 180 fathoms. When first anchored in the river, eight sufficed to hold her, but during half a gale which blew shortly after her launch, she dragged at the stern in such a way as to swing more into the tide-ways, and required two of Trotman's largest patent anchors in addition to the others, since which she has been brought up effectually, and now apparently nothing short of a hurricane would be sufficient to move her.

The masts are at present being made at Millwall in pieces, and a good deal of the main-masts has already been completed, though of course they will not be put together until they are actually on board. There are to be six masts in all, three square-rigged and three rigged with fore and aft sails. All these masts will be composed of wrought iron one inch in thickness, and rivited together in the same manner as the sides of the ship, or a steam-boiler of the strongest description. They will vary in height from 180 to 60 feet from the keel to the truck, each will on three feet four inches diameter at the neck, and each will weigh from 30 to 40 tons, exclusive of yards or rigging. Each mast rests in a square column of plate-iron which reaches direct from the keel to the upper deck, and is rivited and built into all of the successive decks through which it passes. In case of it ever becoming necessary to cut away the masts, at the base of them all, at about three feet above the deck, will be fixed a peculiar apparatus, which, working by means of a powerful screw, is made to compress two sides of the mast together in such a manner as to completely crush them in, and let the mast fall over the side immediately. As, however, all the masts will be stayed by the usual standing rigging, which in the case of the Leviathan, will be all of wire rope of the most massive kind, other precautions have to be taken in order to get rid of the masts when necessary. To effect this, then, all the shrouds and stays are fastened at the ends through iron rings in such a manner that as far as any exertion of strength or skill is concerned, a single man would be sufficient to cast loose all the fastenings of each mast in five minutes, though until the rings are opened the sides might be torn from the ship before they would yield an inch.

With regard to the future of the Leviathan herself, there is perhaps no question more frequently asked by the public than that of where she is to be docked in case of her wanting repairs or her bottom requiring cleaning. This question, however, has, we are glad to say, been satisfactorily decided, though not quite as regards docking her. There are some docks, we believe, in Liverpool, which are long enough to take in the Leviathan if their entrances were only wide in proportion; but, as they all fail in this latter important particular, the great vessel when she wants cleaning will have to be grid-ironed, as the screw colliers are—that is, run aground on rows of piles, laid along the river's side for the purpose, and the tide of course will leave her dry at each low water. A spot has been chosen for this purpose in the Mersey, between Woodside and Birkenhead, and to this place the Leviathan will be taken as often as she needs repairs or cleaning. It is almost a pity, however, that no "gridiron" of sufficient length could be formed or made in the Thames, or in any other river in the kingdom but the Mersey, which is one of the most rapid and dangerous, and in which, we should think the Leviathan, even with the aid which Trotman's anchors give her, must run more or less of risk either in navigating or stay ing at anchor.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE—ELOPEMENT, AND BOKER AND DEAN ON A SMALL SCALE.—Quite a romantic affair came off on Sunday night at the residence of Justice Purdy. He was called up in the dead hours of the night by a loud rapping at the front door, and, upon proceeding to ascertain its cause, he found a small party gathered on the front steps, who signified their desire of having the nuptial ceremony performed without delay. The Justice accordingly invited them in, and having donned his clothes, proceeded to investigate the matter. The bridegroom was a smart looking young Irishman, and the bride an American girl of about sixteen, quite pretty and intelligent. They were in a great hurry to have the ceremony performed without delay, and as upon questioning, no impediment offered itself, they were married, and departed in high glee.—The bridegroom was directed to call at the office in the morning and get his marriage certificate. His name was Thomas O'Brien, and that of the lady Miss Laura Lee. Her father lives in Bedford, fifteen miles from the city.

Mr. O'Brien called punctually for his marriage certificate the next morning, and expressed himself highly tickled with his marital achievement. The secret of the matter he kept entirely to himself, however, and it probably would have not leaked out had not a sturdy, well to do farmer made his appearance in the office a short time after, and requested leave to enter complaint against one Thomas O'Brien, a roving young Irishman, for abduction of his daughter. His assault and was simply intense at being informed by Justice Purdy that he had married the identical couple of which he was in search, a few hours before. The old man broke out into violent demonstrations, and would not be pacified for a time, but he finally told his story. It appeared that the young Irishman who had proved himself such an adept in love had been in his employ as a teamster, and that so cunning had he been in his advances to the young lady that the first intimation the father had of their intentions was conveyed by the sudden and unaccountable disappearance of both. He said that they need not have made such fools of themselves, for, if they were determined to marry, he would have consented, and given them a farm to boot. As it was, Mr. Lee was deservedly quite indignant, but he finally cooled down and went off in search of the errant couple, who are some where in the city. He is quite a wealthy farmer, and lives, as the girl stated, in Bedford.—Detroit Free Press.

THE GREAT NATIONAL ANTI-LECOMPTON CONVENTION.—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette states that the great anti-Lecompton Convention at Chicago, is arranged to take place on the first Monday in May, and will probably call out as large an out-pouring of the masses, as has been assembled at any time within the last twenty years. The contrast that will be presented to the gathering of office-holders, which have recently been convened under orders from head-quarters, will be so marked and significant, that even the Administration with all that self-imposed delusion which has marked its appreciation of public sentiment, cannot fail to discover in the proposed demonstration, the foreshadowing of that doom which an indignant and outraged people will be sure to inflict.

Steamer Ashore.

NEW YORK, March 17.

The steamer C. Vanderbilt, of the Stonington line, arrived at 1 P. M., and reports the steamer Empire State, of the Fall River Line, from that place bound to this city, during the fog this morning, 17th inst., at 2 A. M., went ashore on Matline Cook Point, and sunk. Her main deck is 2 feet under water. The passengers and all the freight that could be saved were taken off by the C. Vanderbilt.

The Religious Revival.

For sufficient reasons we have not filled our columns with the details of the religious revival now prevailing throughout the country. The devotional exercises and the religious experiences and opinions of a people, however crude, extravagant and unreasonable they may seem, are invested with a character of privacy that ought not to be violated for the purpose of affording public amusement or gratifying the curiosity of the skeptic. If, for instance, some shoulder-striking "Awful Gardner" or city Alderman has experienced a change which makes him a good man and a safe citizen, it is at once indelicate and unjust to him, and contrary to the best interests of society to herald with ludicrous particularity the successive manifestations of his amelioration.—From the fiery-tongued Pentecost of the Apostles to the Surrey Chapel demonstrations of Spurgeon, religious reforms have always told most efficiently on the ignorant and the poor, and their mode of displaying the faith that was in them of course has not been such as might satisfy the scrutiny of the cold-blooded philosopher or the fastidious cultivator of social proprieties. Still, if such men as the hackman and the runners, not a few of whom are among the converts in this vicinity, are, as a general thing, made permanently better and more useful men by the process, if they become more temperate, better husbands, less extortionate in their dealings, although they may not attain that spiritual superiority for which they seek, there is every reason to bid the movement God speed.

The reform, as Mrs. Stowe observes in an article from her pen, must be justified in some measures by its results. If these consequences are, as we have reason think, beneficient, derision is wrong and out of place, and the vulgar parade of their more eccentric manifestations is much to be reprehended.

In addition to Mrs. Stowe's letter, we publish to day a circular from a respectable committee of business men, on the results of the noon prayer meetings, announcing an important change for the better among the clerks and the unmarried young men of the city. Many of the more desperate cases of dissipation, we are told, have been permanently arrested, and New York bids fair to become a most exemplary city instead of that vortex of crime which it has hitherto been regarded. We are rejoiced to hear that so fine a prospect is dawning upon our city, though we cannot share in the committee's estimate of the moral degradation of the metropolis. There is a good deal more piety, and goodness, and true religion here, than gets in the newspapers, or is demonstrated at the revival meeting. The fact that crimes and evil doings are the staple of what is published and known about our community, is a proof that they are exceptions to the usual course of its affairs. What is characteristic and usual would not excite remark.—N. Y. Evening Post.

SINGULAR CASE.—Miss Mary Clark, Teacher of Music at the Female Seminary in this city, died on Tuesday morning under very singular circumstances. She had been complaining for several days previous with a cold, or influenza, but nothing serious had been thought of it by her or her friends. She retired in usual health, with the exception stated, on Monday night, arose as 2 o'clock in the morning, took some medicine left her by the Doctor, and again retired to bed. At the breakfast hour her room mate thought she was sleeping soundly, and did not disturb her. Upon her return from breakfast a marked change was apparent in Miss Clark, and she was unable to arouse her. Dr. Lucious Clark was immediately called, but all efforts to arouse her were unavailing, and she gradually sank and died about 9 o'clock in the morning. Her father, who resides, we believe, at Niles, Michigan, was telegraphed for, and he immediately came on, and her remains were taken by him on the cars on Wednesday evening. It is a little singular that up to that time no change had taken place in the appearance of the body since death, and it was suggested and confidently spoken of by many that she was only in a trance. We are also informed the coffin was to be left partly open while her remains were in transit.

Miss Clark had been educated here, and was for the last year a teacher of music in the Seminary, and highly esteemed by all who had the pleasure of enjoying her acquaintance.—Rockford Register.

☞ The unfortunate Turk who is at present in the claws of a committee of "gentlemanly" Council members is said to have inquired of the interpreter: "What makes these men spit so eternally?" In Turkey, and indeed, in Europe generally, no man ever spits in the presence of another, excepting in the public street and with his head averted; while here there is such a continuation of firing and cross-firing of tobacco-juice in front of, across, and sometimes actually upon respectable people, that even a Turk cannot conceal his disgust.—N. Y. Post.

ONE DOLLAR WILL BUY
ONE OF THESE BURGATIVE
and Liver Medicines now before the public, namely DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, for LIVER REMEDY that acts as a Cathartic, tonic, nutritive and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the liver to eject the morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels, to carry off the matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and when taken in moderate doses will regulate and build it up with unusual rapidity.

DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR is compounded entirely from new articles of medicine, (Roots.)

Some idea of the strength of these gums may be formed, when it is known that one bottle of the Invigorator contains as much strength as one hundred bottles of Calomel will, and a day of its detention of feces, from constipation.

Though possessing rare, medicinal powers, these Gums have been so little known as to be pronounced never used in their prescriptions and used in the form of the Invigorator, which met with such unprecedented success as to induce the proprietor to offer it to the family medicine world at large, for its effects. It has rarely ever failed to cure Liver Complaints in their worst forms.

JAUNDICE is caused by the improper action of the Liver, and as a proof that the Invigorator relieves this disease, let any one troubled with Jaundice take the Invigorator regularly one week, and their skin will begin to assume its original color.

COSTIVENESS can be permanently cured by the Invigorator. Take it in small doses on retiring, and assist nature. Do not take Cathartics. By gradually diminishing the dose, the bowels are left in a healthy and active state, and work as regularly as clock work.

SICK HEADACHE is very soon relieved by taking a double dose of the Invigorator, which corrects all acidity and sourness of the stomach.

For an overloaded stomach it has no equalizes it relieves all oppressive or uneasy feeling after eating heartily. For a family medicine generally, all who use it speak in the highest terms.

DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR came to be recommended to us as cure for Liver Complaints, and all diseases arising from a diseased Liver. The testimonials of so many of our Physicians in its favor induced us to try it, and our conviction is certain that it is one of the greatest blessings ever given to Dyspepsia, for it made a complete cure before the first bottle was taken, and now we can eat anything edible without trouble, while before nothing but the lightest food would digest, and often that gave pain. Now what we want to say to all our readers is, if Liver Complaint or Dyspepsia trouble you, do not fail to try this the greatest remedy in the world.—State's Press.

We take infinite pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventative for FEVER and AGUE, CHILL FEVER, and all FEVERS of a BILIOUS TYPE. In every case with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to the wonderful virtues.

There has never been tried in our family a remedy which has met with such unbounded success in the cure of diseases incident to children as Dr. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, nor is it alone for diseases of childrenthat we use it; for it acts as a Cathartic so mildly and gently, and seems to renovate the system so thoroughly that we think we are doing a service to all in advising them when they need medicine, to try this remedy. There are cases that have come under our notice where great benefit has been received in diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, where all other remedies failed to give relief. It has become so useful in our family that we will not be without it.—Jacksonville, Ala. Republican.

ODE TO THE SEA.

Once a year is not too often to print this splendid piece of music, by Tennyson:

On thy cold gray stones, oh Sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To the haven under the hill;
But oh for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!

But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me.

A WIFE COMPRESSED INTO A RING.—A certain Russian noble, who lately visited Paris, was noticed to be constantly plunged into a deep sadness. He wore on his finger a very remarkable ring, large enough for a bracelet, and extended over his hand like a bracelet for the ring finger. It was of a greenish color, and was traversed by red veins. It attracted the attention of everybody, but no one was bold enough to interrogate the mysterious stranger, until one day a lady, meeting him in a public parlor, ventured to say, "You wear a very handsome ring." The Russian made a movement as though he would conceal his hand, but that feeling gave way to a desire to unburden himself. "It is a ring," he answered, "but a sepulchre!" A shudder passed through the whole company. "This jewel, Madam," he continued, "is my wife. I had the misfortune to lose her some years since, in Russia. She was an Italian, and dreaded the icy bed which awaited her after this life. I carried her remains to Germany, where I was acquainted with a celebrated chemist, whom I directed to make of the body a solid substance, which I could always carry about me. Eight days afterwards he sent me and showed me the empty coffin, a horrid collection of instruments and utensils. This jewel was lying on a table. He had, through means of some corrosive substances of powerful pressure, reduced and compressed that which was my wife into this jewel, which shall never more leave me."

This burial by chemistry is an improvement upon the process of cremation lately proposed by the French papers. Should it become popular, a widow may hereafter have her husband made into a bracelet, with a chain attached, to remind her of the hymenial bond. A husband will have his wife done into a pin, and certain academicians,—old fogies—we know would make very good coat buttons.—N. Y. Tribune

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN and PROF. DE GRATH.—Franklin brought Electricity from the heavens to earth, but it remained for Prof. De Grath to supply that Electricity to the relief of diseased and suffering mortals—diseases that heretofore baffled the physicians and treatment, such as Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Pains, Stiff Joints, Deafness, Swellings, Palsy, Piles, Skin Diseases, &c., are now cured by Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil in one or two days. Read the letter:

PROF. DE GRATH—I have been the victim for many years of a Rheumatic affection, and lost the use of my limbs. I could not raise my hand to my head, in short, I was totally helpless. I applied your Electric Oil, and before I had used one bottle I was perfectly restored.—You may refer any sufferers to me.
MRS. E. HUTCHINS,
Seventeenth and Thompson streets.

Mrs. Hutchins is well known in Philadelphia. My Oil has cured 2,000 other Philadelphians, among whom are Geo. W. Ward, Esq., Jos. K. Bacon, R. B. DeCosta, Mrs. Fassit and C. Bower, 502 N. Third st., and others, ad infinitum. 308 S. Eighth, near Chestnut st.

The Electric Oil Depot has not been removed.

☞ For sale by Bosworth & Sons, and J. H. Tesch, Milwaukee; Fahnestock & Davis, and Reed & Co., Chicago; and by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the country.

WOOD'S RESTORATIVE.—Of all the restoratives for the hair that have been invented, Wood's pre-eminently claims the first place. It will certainly restore the natural color of the hair, if the directions are followed for a sufficient length of time. It has also produced astonishing effects in bringing out a growth of hair where the head had been previously bald. Wood does not pretend that it will do this to all cases; and we think the candid is a good recommendation of the virtues which his restorative really possesses, if the roots of the hair are destroyed, no human power can make them grow again; but where there is any vitality left in the root, the restorative will soon renew the hair in all its pristine vigor. It has done this repeatedly, where all other remedies had failed. It is, therefore, worth while in all cases to make the experiment. For clearing the head of dandruff, and thickening and reviving the hair, it has no rival.—Western Patriot.
